His Legacy… Robert was born on April 8, 1960 in San Jose, California to Marjorie Ellen Smith and Robert Ray Smith I. Rob was the youngest of four children and the only boy. From the very beginning he was spoiled by his parents and sisters. He was a strong child and always stood up for the “underdog” or “little man” in any situation at school or the playground. He loved playing football, which was his sport, his world. Rob played the position of center from his “Pop Warner” days through his high school years. When he married he immediately had a step daughter, Angela. He had always loved her as his own. Soon he had a son, Brandon. Rob was “over the moon” with his son. As an adult Rob was “lost” for several years. He worked very hard and turned his life around. When his mother became very ill, he moved to Oroville to help his family take care of her. At the time of his death, he had been clean and sober for fourteen years. The family was very proud of his accomplishments. Brandon, Rob’s son, was his whole life. Unfortunately Brandon died on Rob’s birthday in 2011. Rob has now gone to be with his son and parents in heaven. Rob will be lovingly remembered by his family and friends as a wonderful father and brother. He will also be remembered as a supportive friend who would give you the shirt off his back if you needed it. Rob passed away on December 7, 2011 in Oroville, California.

His Family… Robert is survived by his sisters, Jeannie Schwartz, Barbara Dashler both of Oroville, CA; and Fawn Roberts of MO; step-daughter Angela Salerno of San Jose, CA; many Aunts, Uncles, Nieces, Nephews and Cousins.
