His Legacy… David Maxwell Kircher was born on December 3, 1987 in Chico, California to Evelyn Patterson and Eric Kircher. “Max” as he went by with his family, was a very fun loving type of person that could put a smile on anyone’s face. Max loved animals and animals loved Max, he had plans to move to Southern California and start veterinary School, he was planning on leaving on the 15th of this month. Max was very outgoing and fun to be around; he could make a funny joke out of any situation. He was very athletic and he loved his boxing and football. He was known for his giant heart and his huge smile. One of his best qualities was that he was hardly serious except when he needed to be for others. Max had a laugh you could hear a mile away and as soon as you heard it, it would make you laugh. He was always the good hearted life and rock of our family, always seeing the best in people. If you’ve met Max you would know he was one of those people it was impossible to dislike. He was a very loving, caring, comforting and generous brother, son and friend. His bright and loving spirit will always glow and shine in the hearts of everyone who knew him.
