Coralee Joy Whitney was born on November 6, 1948 to Everett & Opal Saulsbury in Scotia, California. Coralee passed away on May 1, 2009 in Oroville, CA. Coralee attended Pacific Union College and South Western Adventist University where she received her Bachelors Degree in Communications. She worked as a teacher for 10 years as well as being a writer part time. Coralee met and married her husband on September 6, 1970 and together they raised their two daughters. She attended the 7th Day Adventist Church. Coralee’s hobbies included working with stained glass, writing, reading, and most importantly spending time with her grandchildren. Coralee will be remembered as a woman with a strong faith in God who fought on a daily basis to stay alive; she was a loving wife, mother and devoted grandmother who is now waiting on the second coming of her Lord and Savior. She will be greatly missed.

Her Family… Coralee is survived by her husband of 38 years Marvin Whitney of Oroville, CA; her parents Everett & Opal Saulsbury of College Place, WA; her brothers David Saulsbury of Okanogan, WA; Phillip Saulsbury of Angwin, CA; her daughters Lonna (Nick) Yushmanov of San Antonio, TX; Carrie (David) Garcia of Pasco, WA, grandson, Roman Garcia, granddaughters Lexie Garcia, Hailey Yushmanov, Lauren Yushmanov.
