George R. Schrader

October 14, 1934
May 9, 2015

His Legacy... George R. Schrader, 80, was born on October 14, 1934 in Los Angeles, California to George E. Schrader and Esther Collins Schrader. He grew up in San Fernando Valley and graduated from Van Nuys High School. His class motto: “What they dared to dream of they dared to do.” He continued his education and graduated in 1954 with an associate degree in Future Business Leaders of America. George served active duty in the U.S. Army, and six years in the Naval Reserves. After the military he then spent 30 years as a movie grip in the movie industry. His leisure time activities included building model planes, hunting and playing football. George retired after 30 years in the movie industry where he worked as a grip on numerous movies such as: My Fair Lady, The Untouchables, Silverado and Turner & Hooch. George passed away on May 9, 2015 in Oroville, California.

His Family... George is survived by his close friends Jane Francisco, Maricris Pollescas, Sharon Shirley, his sister Shirley Scofield, nephews Doug Scofield, Jesse Scofield, and nieces Teri Barry-Snook and RoniLee Scofield.