Garth Taylor Daniels was born on January 10, 1987 in Oroville, California to Steve and Cheri Daniels. Garth was a beloved son, brother, fiancé, father and above all else, a beautiful and charismatic soul. He was tragically taken in a car accident early the morning of May 21, 2015. Garth was an avid poker player as well as a talented athlete leading his high school basketball team the Oroville Tigers to a Division III Championship. He excelled at everything he pursued. He had an unparalleled ability to bring laughter to a room and find humor in the world. Although he loved all sports, the Dodgers were his favorite team by far. Garth will be forever remembered for so many things, his one of a kind sense of humor, his entrepreneurial spirit, his strong will and his unconditional love for his friends and family. He was larger than life and he lived his life to the fullest. He had this to say about himself on his Instagram, “With our thoughts we make the world, Angry Buddhist - Poker Player – Gambler – Entrepreneur – Small town dude – Big time dreams – Always keep it 100! #anifurhatinhatehardercuz I’m still gonna shine!
